

Hot Scoop

URGENT NEWS & UPDATES

Published by The Cat Practice, Birmingham, Michigan. Open 7 days a week and evenings.
248-540-3390 • thecatpracticepc.com

PET FOOD RECALL

Natura Pet Products is voluntarily expanding its recent recall of dry pet foods because of the risk of Salmonella contamination.

The expanded recall now includes all sizes, varieties, lot codes, and UPCs of Innova, EVO, California Natural, HealthWise, and Karma dry pet food products and treats with expiration dates prior to and including March 24, 2014.

If you bought any of the recalled items, you should stop feeding that food immediately. Contact Natura for information on getting a refund or replacement. Natura can be reached at 800-224-6123.

Contaminated food can sicken pets and humans who handle it. Symptoms of Salmonella are mainly vomiting and diarrhea. If your cat may have eaten the contaminated food and you notice any noticeable changes in their activity, a visit to your veterinary is recommended to start symptomatic treatment and antibiotics.