

What every Feline Family should know:

Simply the best cat toys

Keeping kitty physically active and mentally stimulated are essential to good feline care. Active cats are healthier and less apt to get into trouble due to boredom. Each cat will choose his or her favorite toys; here are some of the best!

Laser pointer

This toy flashes a red laser dot that you can move around the room. Some include an automatic movement feature and timer. Cats have a blast trying to catch the red dot! Important note: NEVER shine a laser light directly into your pet's eyes.

Swizzle Bird®

For cats who may be tempted to eat the string of the Da Bird®, the Swizzle Bird® has no exposed strings or metal pieces.

Da Bird® feather toy

Set on a swivel for you to move around, the feathers look and sound like real bird wings. This toy activates your cat's inner hunting instinct!

4Kitten Mitten®

The mitten's long fingers have jingling, catnip-filled pom-pom tips. Made of 100% cotton canvas, the glove has plastic-reinforced fingers.

Quick Draw McPaw®

This peek-a-boo toy has a 45-inch-long flexible tube with a handle at one end and a feather at the other. Slide the handle and the feathers pop in and out.

Cat Dancer®

This piece of spring wire features tightly rolled paper strips at the end that cats love to paw.

Play Paw®

This protective double-thick plush glove is soft inside and out and keeps your hands safe from kitty's claws and teeth. The natural animal patterns give the mitt the prey-like look and feel that cats love to attack. Machine washable.

Remote Control Mouse

This radio-controlled mouse rights itself every time your cat bats it over. Steer the durable plastic mouse using the cheese wedge controller. Mouse recharges in 45 seconds.

Household items make great toys!

- Throw wadded up paper balls up and down stairs for kitty to chase.
- Toss small balled up pieces of paper into a shoebox and let kitty have fun intercepting and blocking your shots!
- Attach a shoelace or other piece of rope to a box and take kitty for a "sled" ride along the carpet.
- Let kitty help arrange the bed covers. Slip your arm underneath and let kitty "hunt" the lump and wiggling fingers.
- Give kitty play a balled up sock; throw it playfully or lightly bat kitty with it.
- Kitties love to chase children's bubbles; check pet supplies stores for catnip-scented ones!
- Toss a ping pong ball into a clean, dry bathtub and watch the fun unfold!
